DEDICATED RESEARCH SITES

FutureSearch Trials specializes in CNS research in large urban and suburban areas of Texas. We have experienced Investigators with long-standing commitments to the communities and patients they serve. We are dedicated to conducting quality, focused clinical research studies for the treatment of mental health, neurological, pain and sleep disorders.

Our Dallas site conducts Phase II-IV research in psychiatry and chronic pain studies, and has been established for many years, with long-standing Principal Investigator, coordinators and support staff. Dr. Downing has an on-site private practice which complements research activities.

Michael J. Downing M.D.
